Cookies policy:

1. The service does not automatically collect any information, except for information contained in cookie files.
2. Cookies are IT data, in particular text files, which are stored on the end device of the Website User and are intended for the use of subpages of the Website. Cookies usually contain the name of the website, which they come from, time of their storage on the end device as well as a unique number.
3. The entity placing the cookie files on the end device of the Website User and obtaining access to them is the Website operator.
4. Cookies are used for: a. adjusting the content of websites to User preferences and optimizing the use of websites; in particular, these files allow for recognition of a Website User's device and for proper display of the website, adjusted to individual needs; b. creating statistics that help understand how Website Users use websites, which makes it possible to improve their structure and content; c. maintaining a session of the Website User (after logging in), thanks to which a User does not have to enter their login and password again on each subpage of the Website;
5. Under the Website, two main types of cookie files are used: session cookies and persistent cookies. Session cookies are temporary files, which are stored on the User's end device until the user logs out, leaves the website or closes the software (Internet browser). Persistent cookies are stored on the User's end device for the time specified in the parameters of cookie files or until their removal by the User.
6. As part of the Website, the following types of cookie files are used: a. "mandatory" cookies, enabling use of services available within the Website, e.g. authentication cookies used for services requiring authentication within the Website; b. cookies used to ensure safety, e.g. used to detect abuse of authentication within the Website; c. "performance" cookie files, allowing the collection of information on the method of use of the Website pages; d. "functional" cookies allowing the website to "remember" User preferences and customize the User's interface, e.g. in terms of User's language or region, font size, website layout etc.;
7. In many cases, the software used for browsing the websites (Internet browser) allows storing of cookie files on the User's end device by default. The Service Users may change the settings concerning the cookie files at any time. In particular, these settings can be changed in such a manner as to block the automatic support of cookie files in the settings of the Internet browser or each time inform the Service User about their storage on the device. Detailed information on the possibility and methods of support of cookie files are available in the software settings (Internet browser).
8. The Service Operator informs that the limitations on the use of cookie files may affect some options available on the Service's websites.
9. Cookies stored on the end device of the Website User can be used also by advertisers and partners cooperating with the Website operator.
10. More information about cookies can be found on the website: <http://wszystkooociasteczkach.pl> or the "Help" section of your web browser.
